This program has been structured around “drug and alcohol prevention”. The educational program is designed to equip students with the necessary tools to resist drugs and alcohol.

The Virginia State Police and Trooper Teddy will be present at “Education Day” to collaborate with the training. The officers will offer advice and encourage involvement from the students in the program with question and answer sessions, group discussions and group exercises. Also, selected students will be included in between-inning contests.

The presentation focuses on the following objectives and goals:

- Acquiring the knowledge and skills to recognize and resist peer pressure to experiments with tobacco, alcohol and other drugs
